STUDIOS

FEWTURE STUDIOS is making ownership accessible in the attention economy by turning creators into founders and audiences into enterprise value.

our thesis:

the world has seen the creator economy's meteoric rise, but the true frontier is the attention economy, a potential $1.5 trillion market. at FEWTURE STUDIOS, we're building the infrastructure to back creator-led ventures that convert engagement into ownable IP by incubating three verticals: high-impact content & live IP, creator-branded consumer products, and proprietary technology – empowering creators to become founders of enduring enterprises, diversify revenue streams, and redefine ownership in the digital age.

this is our moat

credibility

we recruited, identified, and helped build today's top creators before they were stars, and secured historic deals and industry-defining partnerships.

business architecture

we do more than incubate businesses—we design them. From structuring ventures for growth to engineering the systems that sustain them, we turn ideas into companies built to last.

infrastructure & execution strategy without execution is nothing. We bridge vision and action, implementing the processes, teams, and operational frameworks that drive real business results.

scalability

we don't build businesses that just work—we build businesses that scale. Every venture is designed with hyper-growth, expansion, and sustainability in mind.

we're not on the outside looking in, we actively co-create with the biggest talent in the industry.

business model

fewture generates revenue through a diversified, creator-powered approach:

equity ownership

we co-found creator-led ventures – owning the upside and architecting the infrastructure from day one. It's how we ensure strategic control, long-term alignment, and compounding enterprise value.

revenue sharing fewture earns from the IP, platforms, and products we help build – licensing, brand deals, merchandise, streaming, and more. We don't advise from the sidelines; we share in the upside.

agency model

through our embedded agency model, we develop brands, launch campaigns, and scale IP – driving results for both creators and partners with operational rigor.

our focus:

intellectual property
consumer products
technology

founder bios

Kai Henry
CEO

Kai Henry is a corporate and cultural strategist who bridges brand, commerce, and culture, with a track record of building influential lifestyle brands like Beats by Dre, SOL REPUBLIC, and En Noir.

A former Chief Strategy Officer at FaZe Clan, he began his career managing superstars like Snoop Dogg and David Banner before founding and exiting Skee TV with DJ Skee.

Kai was also a major player at The Firm, facilitated massive deals for FaZe Clan with Sports Illustrated and Moonpay, and was one of the early adopters of blockchain and A.I. in culture.

Josh Stein
President & COO

Josh Stein is a media executive who bridges legacy media and youth culture, leveraging his expertise in finance, law, and content distribution to build scalable creator-led businesses.

Previously, he drove strategic growth at Univision/El Rey Network, VICE Media, and Mirada Studios, specializing in media, technology, and commerce.

Josh launched and scaled the Indomina Studios in Santa Domingo, led the growth of Subnation to an 8-figure valuation, and now is the COO and President of Fewture Studios.

SUBNATION

Brandon Dalton
Chief Creative Officer

Brandon Dalton is a multifaceted creative director working across music, fashion, and gaming with deep relationships in youth culture.

A former key creative at FaZe Clan, he forged crucial connections with talent, and has a track record in the industry among creatives for having big ideas, spotting talent early, and building IP with the creator-first mindset.

Now a Co-Founder of Fewture Studios, he heads up the creative direction of the company, forming his own creative superteam under him to help him build out incubated IP, talent-driven strategies, and curate relationships with the vision for potential business.

thank you
